CONSTITUTION

OF THE

ORPHAN ASYLUM SOCIETY

OF THE

CITY OF BROOKLYN.

ARTICLE I.

This Society shall be known by the name of the Orphan Asylum Society of the City of Brooklyn, and its object, as expressed in the Act incorporating the Society, is to protect relieve and instruct Orphans and Destitute Children in the City of Brooklyn.

ARTICLE II.

(As Amended May 24th, 1858.)

Any person contributing annually to the funds of the Society, and whose name shall be registered or entered as such contributor by the Recording Secretary, shall, for the time being, and until such contribution is discontinued, or on request of payment declined, be a member of this Society, and entitled to all the rights and privileges of an original member. A contribution of twenty-five dollars shall constitute the contributor a member for life. Any person contributing at one time to the funds of the Asylum one hundred dollars, or who shall have been an officer of the Society for ten or more years, shall be constituted an Honorary Member of the Society.

ARTICLE III.

(As Amended May 10th, 1866.)

The business of the Society shall be conducted by a Board of Managers, consisting of a First and Second Directress, a Corresponding and Recording Secretary, a Treasurer, and forty or more Managers, who shall be chosen annually by the Society, and who shall have the power of filling all vacancies which may occur in the Board during the year for which they are chosen; also of appointing twelve gentlemen to act as a Board of Advisors, and to assist in raising funds.

ARTICLE IV.

The Annual Meeting shall be held on the THIRD WEDNESDAY OF MAY in each year, at such hour and place, and be conducted in such manner as the Board of Managers shall from time to time designate and prescribe; and at such meeting, or in case the same shall, from any cause, not have been held on that day, then at such other time and place as the Board may for that purpose appoint, (and which, in such case, shall be appointed for as early a day as shall be conveniently practicable,) the Officers and Managers for the ensuing year shall be chosen, and they shall, in all cases, continue in office until others are chosen in their stead.

ARTICLE V.

The First Directress shall preside at all meetings, both of the Society and of the Board of Managers, preserve order, state questions for decision, and declare the result; and when the meeting is equally divided on any question, she shall have the casting vote.

ARTICLE VI.

The duties of the First Directress shall, in case of her absence, devolve on and be performed by the Second Directress. In the case of the absence of both, a Manager, chosen by the meeting, shall preside.

ARTICLE VII.

(AS AMENDED MAY 17TH, 1865.)

The Recording Secretary shall give due notice of all the meetings of the Society, and of the Board of Managers; attend the meetings of the same, and record their proceedings.

ARTICLE VIII.

At the opening of every meeting, the minutes of the last meeting shall be read by the Secretary, and submitted to the Board for approval.

ARTICLE IX.

It shall be the duty of the Corresponding Secretary to conduct the correspondence of the Society, and prepare the Annual Report.

ARTICLE X.

(As Amended May 17th, 1865.)

The Treasurer shall take charge of all moneys collected or received for the Society; make all disbursements ordered by the Board of Managers; attend their meetings; report at the monthly meetings the amount of receipts and payments; also make a report at the annual meeting of the Society of the receipts and expenditures of the preceeding year, and keep a record of the names of all donors and subscribers.

ARTICLE XI.

(As Amended May 23d, 1867.)

The Board of Managers shall meet once a month to attend to all matters of business relating to the Institution. Five Managers attending any meeting regularly convened, shall be competent to transact all business, except the adoption, repeal or modification of any By-Law, or recommendation of any amendment of the Constitution, in which excepted cases there must be fifteen Managers present. The Board shall have power to declare vacant the office of any manager, or any other member of the Board, who shall have neglected to attend monthly meetings of the Board for six consecutive months, or shall have otherwise failed to perform the duties of a member, without sufficient cause reported to the Board. It also shall have power to fill all vacancies that may occur in the Board, to have effect until the next annual election, but this shall be done only upon notice at a previous meeting and reference to a committee to report thereon. It also shall be the duty of the Board to employ a Matron and Teacher, and such subordinate assistants as may be necessary, and to establish By-Laws, Rules and Regulations, from time to time, as they shall deem most conducive to the welfare of the Institution.

The Managers shall, in rotation, visit the Asylum weekly, to supervise the general household management, the health of the children, and the course of instruction, and make report thereon at every monthly meeting.

ARTICLE XII.

(Substituted for Original Article May 23d, 1867.)

An Executive Committee shall be appointed to consist of twelve members, including the 1st and 2d Directress, who shall be ex-officio members. Vacancies, by resignation or otherwise, shall be filled by the Board of Managers upon notice at a previous meeting.

It shall be the special duty of the Executive Committee to attend to the receiving of children into the Asylum, and binding out or dismissing them; they shall make inquiry into the circumstances of children offered for admission and shall also inquire as to their condition after having been bound out. They shall also have general supervision and control of the Asylum under such directions as the Board of Managers shall prescribe, and shall report at each monthly meeting of such Board. Three shall constitute a quorum when the 1st or 2nd Directress shall be present, otherwise five.

ARTICLE XIII.

(Adopted May 23, 1867.)

The Board of Advisors shall meet on the call of the Board of Managers, or of the Executive Committee, and shall act upon any matters referred to them or as to which advice shall be desired. Five shall constitute a quorum. Vacancies shall be filled by the Board of Managers upon notice at a previous, meeting.

ARTICLE XIV.

At the Asylum the children shall be taught the principles of the Christian Religion, as held by the different Evangelical denominations, but no sectarian peculiarities shall ever be inculcated; moral example and habits of industry shall be encouraged, and as far as practicable, established among them. As soon as their age and acquirements shall, in the opinion of the Board of Managers, render them capable of earning their living, they shall severally be bound out to some respectable person or family, for such object and upon such arrangements as the Board may approve, pursuant to the provisions of the Act in relation to the subject.

ARTICLE XV.

The Constitution may be altered or amended on the recommendation of the Board of Managers, as their experience and the future circumstances of the Institution may render necessary or expedient, at any annual meeting of the Society, or at any other meeting SPECIALLY called for the purpose; provided, in the latter case, that the alterations or amendment intended to be proposed shall be specified in the notice by which such meeting shall be convened.

4. A Committee on nominations shall be appointed consisting of Five, to whom it shall be referred to report suitable persons to fill vacancies that shall occur in the Board of Managers, Executive Committee and Board of Advisors.

ANNUAL REPORT---1868.

This Home for Orphan Children counts upon its yearly roll 200 inmates, the greater number of them boys. The number at present remaining in the Asylum is 106.

During the year eight have been indentured, two adopted; others being returned to relatives and friends, or otherwise provided for. Very little illness has been noted the current year, and two only have died. For this dispensation of health to this numerous household we cannot be too grateful to the dispenser of blessings, and, under Him, to the kind care and supervision of our physicians, Drs. Hyde and Speir, who have rendered their gratuitous services as freely this last year as in times past such service has been given us.

The local affairs of this institution are almost without change from the preceding year. Our teachers are as faithful, and our children as well ordered and disciplined as we have heretofore had occasion to pleasurably notice. The bright faces and happy voices that meet us in the schoolroom from time to time, are indicative of the good will and happy relations there prevailing—and the knowledge of the privations of their original homes, and careful parents, more competent than theirs, to understand their wants, is kindest vouchsafement for that which would otherwise be theirs to know and endure.

In studies, the Committee report a moderate advancement, and the interest of the children well-sustained and encouraging. We have to observe that this school is under the inspection and supervision of the members and visitors of the Board of Education. The inadequacy of the schoolroom appropriated to the younger children, and some other obtrusive wants of the building, are just now quietly borne,—hoping as we do, for the new and suitable asylum to be erected as soon as the requisite money can be obtained.

The appointed Supervisors of the house arrangements find the care and economies of the Matron, all that can be expected, and give her due credit for her able and conscientious discharge of duties. She was connected with the Asylum several years before assuming the position of Matron, and has always been observed for her efficiency, and her great kindness to the children and dependents. We gladly give her our confidence and approval.

The plan of sending the children, especially the boys, to the West, to be there provided with good homes, is quietly gaining in favor. Indeed, these children snatched from vice and destitution, seem appointed by destiny—the destiny of Providence—to go out to that grand, broad country, which has room for all to grow in all ways.

The atmosphere which breathes space and freedom is what these cramped ones need, and the farmers and country people need them to be among and of themselves.

Farm-work, to judge from the letters of some of these boys who have gone West, is full of interest and pleasure to them, and the habits and dispositions they so often inherit, and which crop out here, are eradicated, or turned into new channels there, and they are given a chance in life infinitely superior to any they can obtain here. Mr. Brace, Secretary of the Children's Aid Society, N. Y., took, on a late journey West, sixty-three children, mostly boys, from five to fifteen years of age, finding places, and most satisfactory ones, for them all, in a single town in Illinois. Seven of these children were from this asylum, ten from the Industrial School, and the rest from N. Y. His enthusiastic account of their welcome reception from the people of Prairie City, was refreshing to those whose care it is to gather and dispose of these little men and women who must each fill a whole place in the world, and which we earnestly desire to be a well filled place. There are not so many children to the square mile on those wasting praries as are wanted, for assistance, companionship, and for themselves—and, as Orphans seeking a home and a place, they are gladly welcomed. It is a noble work, Mr. Brace and others like him are doing—planting in the West those who will grow with its growth and strengthen with its strength, but we strongly urge the measure of sending thither all boys and girls who shall attain twelve or thirteen years, and be unprovided for here.

Into our Treasury, during the year has come the handsome donation of $5,000 from Messrs. C. & M. Rose;—from the estate of the late John Reid, $250—from Mrs. Thomas Hunt, $250—from Messrs. Augustus Graves, J. L. Morgan, J. O. Low, C. S. Shipman, J. W. Elwell, R. P. Buck, and Mrs. H. Waters, each $100. For these donations, and for all gifts in money, and of useful articles, and for all kind offices to and kind words spoken for us, we here tender most grateful acknowledgments and thanks. Messrs. Horton and Pearson still untiringly teach the children, respectively, in music and Sunday lessons, and the value of these to us, and to the children, is enhanced by the value of faithful and long continuance on their part.

We remember with pleasure the clergymen who have come occasionally into the schoolroom, speaking encouraging words to the children, teachers, and ladies of the Society. We are always most sensible of their responses to our invitation.

We have but a word to say in allusion to the late disturbance of our ordinarily quiet routine, as a well ordered society and Institution. A child whom we pity as much as blame, gave great trouble to Matron and Assistants, by his persistance in bad conduct. All other efforts having failed, by medical advice a course was pursued usual in such cases, and efficacious though harmless in its general results. Malicious persons not his relatives, aided by idle and assuming rumor, distorted the matter into barbarous and uncalled for treatment. Investigation has proved the futility of the charge, and we find no reason, as a Society, to withdraw our confidence and esteem from those who best understood the case, and treated it, as they believed, with due consideration.

In closing, we call attention to our great and calling need and hope,—the New Asylum. Already the lots are purchased, and some of the money subscribed towards its erection. To all these subscribers we present our acknowledgments for their responses to our appeal;—but the half is not done;—and much asking and more giving is necessary to the conduction of this work to a noble completion. Some good friends are never idle, never weary in our behalf,—and when all shall take as cordial interest as these indefatigable few, we may be sure the immediate result will crown all our wishes.

God speed the New Asylum!

Mrs. J. G. WELD,

Corresponding Secretary.
